S. RECEIVES APPEAL FROM PERSIA

Asked to Help That Country Reserve Its Independence in Present Crisis

LAND BLOCKS RUSSIA

Announces Great Britain Cannot Recognize Ex-Shah Mohammed Ali Mirza

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—An appeal from the Persian people to the United States for aid and aid in their controversy with Russia, threatening their independence, read today in the house of representatives.

The appeal follows:

The ultimatum of the Russian government threatening our independence has been rejected with one accord by a country which is jealous of its liberties to preserve it at any price. Russian government would impose upon us by armed force.

Our one offense is, perhaps, that we have understood the necessity of a regime and wishing to enter upon a path of reform and organization and convinced of our perfect innocence and of not being guilty of any offensive act, we appeal to the humanitarian sentiment of the parliament of the United States in saying to you, who have tasted the benefits of liberty, would you witness the fall of a people whose only fault was sympathize with your system to its future? Would you suffer that a people should fall for having wished to reserve its national dignity and having understood the sentiment of a free people? Trusting in the sentiment of honor and justice of a generous people of which you are representative, we are sure that your appeal will penetrate directly to our ears and will gain for us your aid in a solution consistent with the dignity and independence of the Persian people.

URGE BOND ISSUES TO IMPROVE RIVERS

Waterways Assn. Wants States to Take Action If Congress Should Be Slow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The issue of bonds by the federal government to cover the cost of improvement of rivers and harbors was urged before the National Rivers and Harbors Congress here today. If the government declined to make such an issue or if congress should be slow to appropriate money for the improvements, the issue of bonds by the states was advocated by many speakers.

Mayor Gaynor of New York, Governor Hadley of Missouri, Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston and Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, Tex., were among those who favored the bond issue plan.

Other speakers were Secretary of the Interior Fisher, General Rixey, chief of army engineers; Senator Fletcher of Florida and August Belmont of New York.

Mayor Gaynor favored the issue of bonds, but disliked the referendum method of getting it. The experience of his own state with the referendum, he said, did not hold out much hope to those who demand immediate improvements of waterways.

He added that the present high cost of living might be paid to rebates allowed by the railroads, which could be offset by the intelligent development of waterways to compel the reduction of freight charges.

Governor Hadley advocated that Missouri be given complete control of the Missouri river within the state.

TO REVIEW HIGHWAY BILL DECISION OF JUDGE BLISS

DENVER, Dec. 7.—The decision of the late Judge C. N. Bliss of the Denver district court on the validity of house bill No. 200, known as the highway bill, will be reviewed by the supreme court. Attorneys for the commissioners of Prowers county filed a transcript of the record of the trial and a list of alleged errors today. It is probable that the case will be decided by the supreme court in a few weeks as attorneys for both sides are willing to have the case expedited.

AMERICAN SHEEP RAISERS TAKE HONORS OFF CANADA

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Canadian success in capturing first honors in sheep judging at the international stock show came to an end today after years of triumph, and American sheep raisers garnered most of the blue ribbons.

Another feature of the day's winnings was the success of J. E. McNamee of Toledo, Ill., who won 14 out of a possible 16 firsts in Poland China hog classes and also took eight seconds and 16 thirds.

COL. ZEPH T. HILL DEAD

Well-Known Colorado National Guard Officer, Succumbs at Brother's Home in Baltimore

DENVER, Dec. 7.—Telegrams received here tonight announce the death today in Baltimore, Md., of Col. Zeph T. Hill of this city, for years one of the best-known officers of the Colorado National Guard.

Colonel Hill, who had been in failing health for several years, went east to his brother's home last June. He was a widower, 42 years old, and was a graduate of West Point.

IMPROVEMENTS BEGIN AT ONCE

DR. RUTLEDGE IN FULL CHARGE M. W. A. WORK

About $200,000 for Buildings. $100,000 for Equipment, Supplies, Etc.

Work will be started immediately on the improvements at the Modern Woodmen of America sanatorium at an expense of $200,000.

The special committee, consisting of head officials of the national organization and sent here by the executive committee, gave Dr. J. A. Rutledge, superintendent of the sanatorium, permission to proceed with the work according to his judgment.

"I know that work will be started by January," Dr. Rutledge said last night, "but if I had a force of men here at once, we would start work in the morning."

Of the $200,000 to be expended, about $100,000 will be used in the buildings. The rest of the money will be spent for equipment for the new power plant, and furniture for the hospital, main building and operating rooms. Dr. Rutledge plans to spend between $100,000 and $150,000 in furnishing a laboratory, which he plans to make the best equipped and modern in the west.

Dr. Rutledge probably will be in direct charge of all the minor work, although it is possible that he will place two or three minor contracts with local people. He intends starting work today in gathering a force of skilled mechanics and laborers.

"I want to have a large camp established here within the next week or so at least," Dr. Rutledge continued. "I am going to insist upon getting the best men that I can. The size of the camp will depend largely upon whether I submit some of the contracts."

The members of the special committee returned home yesterday, before leaving they placed everything in Dr. Rutledge's hands.

Of the proposed improvements there will be a new main building which will cost about $100,000, and in addition will be a reception hospital costing about $50,000. The power plant will cost about $30,000. Work is under way now on the superintendent's home and a garage and stable.

SHORT LINE ROAD LEASED, IS REPORT

An unconfirmed rumor in railroad circles yesterday was to the effect that the Cripple Creek Central Railroad company has obtained a long lease on the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek District railroad, better known as the Short Line, from the Colorado and Southern Railroad company, which owns the controlling interest in the line.

J. H. Waters, manager of the Short Line, is in Chicago and nothing could be learned from other local railroad men who would be interested in the transaction. H. M. Blackmer, president of the Cripple Creek Central railroad, could not be reached at his home in Denver last night.

According to the report, the lease went into effect December 1. It also is understood that during the winter months an arrangement will be made for the operation of only one of the lines. This plan would have no effect on the accommodations offered by both roads during the tourist season.

It is pointed out that there have been many attempts of late to sell the Short Line but the deal could not be closed. While the Colorado and Southern has been in control of the Short Line, the latter road has been run jointly of late by the C. & S. and the Colorado Midland. A pool had been in effect by which the receipts and expenditures of the Short Line, Midland Terminal and the Florence and Cripple Creek roads were divided on a percentage basis, with the C. & S. looking after the interest on the Short Line bonds. Last year's share of the receipts are said to have been insufficient to meet the interest, resulting in a deficit of about $45,000. The lease of the road is said to be the outcome of several conferences in an attempt to find a more satisfactory arrangement for the operation of the Cripple Creek lines.

In connection with the report, H. McGarry, general manager of the Golden Cycle, has issued a statement denying the story that the American Smelting and Refining company is about to purchase the Golden Cycle and United States Reduction and Refining company mills in Colorado City.

The Golden Cycle management has accepted the open rates on ore treatment used by the Portland Gold Mining company for the last year, as the rates on all ore shipments not included in regular contracts. Those rates, effective Monday are:

Treat ore up to $10 a ton; freight and treatment charges: $4; $10 to $15, $5.25; $15 to $20, $6; $20 to $25, $6.50; $25 to $30, $7; $30 to $40, $7.50; $40 to $50, $8.50; $50 to $100, $9.75; $100 to $150, $9.75; $150 to $200, $10.75; $200 to $250, $12.75; above $250, $12.75.

The success of the Clancy process of treating waste ore, shown through tests at Denver, probably will mean the building of mills at Cripple Creek.

Reyes, Disguised as Discreet Laborer, Escapes From Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7.—Disguised as a discreet laborer walking with a stick, General Bernardino Reyes, once commander of the Mexican army, now charged with inciting revolution in his country, came into Brownsville, Tex., today, according to official dispatches received here. He had not shaved his beard, as had been reported. What are supposed to be Reyes' plans or what was done on the trip were not mentioned in the dispatches.

The official report came from Major Jose Pena, commandant at Matamoros, who says the general, accompanied by Miguel Quiroga and David Reyes Retana, left a train at Rosita Junction, Mexico, just south of Matamoros, whence they rode to the town on the American side of the river.

By automobile, by train and on horseback, they had covered the distance, southward from Tularillas, Tex., to Meyer on the Mexican side, and thence down the river to the coast city.

A report published today by El Imparcial, but which lacks confirmation, is that Dr. Espinosa de los Monteros 10 days ago crossed the frontier into Mexico near Juarez at the head of a considerable body of men recruited by a prominent business man of San Antonio.

It also states that with Monteros is a board of strategy, including Major Carlos Gonzales and Juan Palacios and Captains Luis Perez, Manuel Gomez and Tomas Bravo.

He is credited with having two machine guns and a well equipped signal service corps.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—According to information received here tonight, General Reyes has crossed the Rio Grande into Mexico, where he was received by a band of loyal followers. The report said nothing about the general's plans.

LA FOLLETTE WILL BE ELECTED, SAYS PINCHOT

Declares Roosevelt Would Have Been Choice of Progressives Had He Not Refused to Run

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Gifford Pinchot tonight told the members of the Chicago Press club that "party had lost its power, because a greater than party is here."

He defined the "greater" as the issue of social justice.

Earlier in the day he told a gathering of Progressive Republicans that Senator La Follette would be nominated and elected president.

"Senator Doolittle might have been the nominee of the Progressives, had he lived," said the speaker. "Theodore Roosevelt still would be had he not refused to run," he added, and he told the newspaper men he was in a position to know the ex-president meant what he said.

J. B. M'NAMARA CAUSED OWN DOWNFALL

Boastfulness Was First Circumstance That Led McManigal to Talk

NEW DETAILS OF ARRESTS

Investigator Says A "Higher Up" Will Be Taken Into Custody Soon

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 7.—"I've got hundreds of thousands of dollars and the American Federation of Labor back of me. It took only $30,000 to clear Vincent Altman of Chicago, and if they could not convict him, they can't convict me."

This boast, attributed today by Detective MacLaren to James B. McManigal, then also under arrest, to become angered with McManigal for his indiscreet statement and was the first circumstance that led McManigal to break with his companion and eventually to confess his connection with various dynamiting explosions throughout the country.

McManigal's real confession had been saved for the trial of James B. and John J. McManigal, but this evidence as well as all that gathered by the state was turned over today to the United States government. The federal grand jury heard McManigal's story all day and will hear more of it tomorrow, laying the foundation for their probe into the alleged dynamiting conspiracies that extended from coast to coast in the last three years.

BROTHERS NOT BROUGHT IN.

The McManigals were not brought before the federal grand jury. It may be that McManigal's story may be regarded as sufficient and the other two be removed to San Quentin penitentiary without further interrogation here.

Details of what McManigal knows of the alleged conspiracy were given to the grand jury today. That his story implicates other men in the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers became known through various sources. McManigal alleged that persons other than John J. McManigal, the secretary-treasurer, paid him for the "20 jobs" of dynamiting that he accomplished since 1907.

As a question has been raised as to competency of testimony from convicted felons, it was considered unlikely that the revelations of the McManigals, if any, would be of consequence, for such testimony could not be used in court against those indicted. The story of McManigal, however, who has not yet even been brought to trial, will be of great value to the investigators and the state will not try on the indictments against him until the federal authorities are through. Even then, it was stated tonight on good authority, District Attorney Fredericks will recommend his discharge on account of signal service rendered.

McManigal never killed anybody.

RECOMMENDS OPENING OF TIMBER LANDS TO ENTRY

Believed 82,500-Acre Tract Lying Near Meeker Will Be Available in January, 1912

MEERER, Colo., Dec. 7.—Pending before the United States forestry department in Washington is a recommendation urging the throwing open to public entry a tract of farming and grazing land comprising 82,500 acres, situated within the bounds of the White River forest reserve.

This land, the line of which begins about 20 miles northeast of Meeker, lies along the northern boundary of the reserve, and passes Williams Fork, Thornburg and Axial.

For a long time it has been contended that this land was not properly included in the reserve, being much more valuable for farming and grazing purposes than for the timber growing upon it, and forestry experts, who this summer were sent into this district to see over the land, are agreed on this point.

It is estimated that the lands will be ready for entry about January, 1912.

DR. BLUE REACHES FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Dr. Rupert Blue of the marine hospital service, who was recalled from Hawaii following the death of Surgeon General Wyman, and who has been prominently mentioned as the probable successor to Dr. Wyman's office, arrived here today from Honolulu on the steamer Siberia. Dr. Blue will proceed at once to Washington.

STRIKE O.I. NEAR ALAMOSA

Is First Discovery of This Nature in San Luis Valley—Well Down 3,200 Feet

ALAMOSA, Colo., Dec. 7.—Oil is reported to have been struck for the first time in the San Luis valley in a 3,200-foot well bored by the San Luis Valley Oil and Gas company near the town of Mosca, 13 miles northeast of this city. After several barrels of oil had been pumped from the well, a section below the casing caved in. A new well will be driven at once, the company says.

WOMAN WHO KILLED HER EX-HUSBAND ACQUITTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Mary L. Sudall, last July, was acquitted of the charge of murder by a jury in the superior court today.

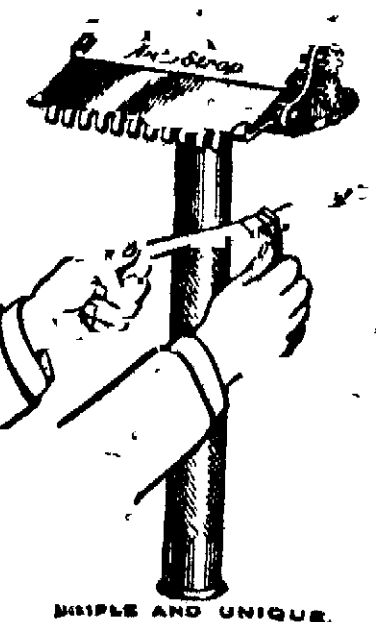

Sudall had obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce after a showing in court in which Mrs. Sudall appeared in an unfavorable light. He called upon Mrs. Sudall and demanded back a ring belonging to his mother. Mrs. Sudall refused and a quarrel ensued.

EX-GOVERNOR TO HEAD GEORGIA DEMOCRATS

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 7.—Unofficial rumors from all of the 148 counties of the state show that ex-Governor J. M. Brown swept the state in the Democratic gubernatorial primaries today. Twenty-four counties give ex-Governor Brown 200 of the 300 "D" vote.

S. RECEIVES APPEAL FROM PERSIA

Asked to Help That Country Preserve Its Independence in Present Crisis

ENGLAND—BLOCKS RUSSIA

Announces Great Britain Cannot Recognize Ex-Shah Mohammed Ali Mirza

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—An appeal from the Persian people to the congress of the United States for aid and sympathy in their controversy with Russia, threatening their independence, was read today in the house of representatives.

The appeal follows: "The ultimatum of the Russian government threatening our independence has been rejected with one accord by a country which, jealous of its liberties, tries to preserve it at any price. The Russian government, would it impose its will upon us by armed force."

Our one offense is, perhaps, that we have understood the necessity of a regime and wishing to enter upon a course of reform and organization and convinced of our perfect innocence and of not being guilty of any offensive act, we appeal to the humanitarian sentiment of the parliament of the United States in saying to you, who have tasted the benefits of liberty, would you witness the fall of any people whose only fault was sympathy with your system to its future? Would you suffer that a land should fall for having wished to preserve its national dignity and having understood the sentiments of a free people? Trusting in the sentiment of honor and justice of a generous people, of which you are representative, we are sure that our appeal will penetrate directly to your ears and will gain for us your aid and in a solution consistent with the dignity and independence of our country."

ENGLAND BLOCKS RUSSIA

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The British government has blocked any intention that Russia may have had of reinstating in Persia the ex-shah of Persia, Mohammed Ali Mirza, by informing the net in St. Petersburg that it is impossible for Great Britain to recognize him.

It is intimated in official circles here that the slowness of the Russian advance on Tehran is intentional. Russia has no desire to march beyond the maintenance of the status quo. The port has consequently informed the Turkish government that it is possible to comply with its wishes.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The president of Reichstag today received an appeal from the Persian parliament requesting the representatives of the German people to use their best efforts in Persia's behalf in the dispute which has arisen with Russia.

SUGAR BEET GROWERS HOSTILE TO REFINERS

Assesses Before Sugar Trust Investigating Committee Say Farmers Lose Out on Profits

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The rank-and-file of the investigation of the sugar trust by the investigating committee took it into the war between the Great Western Sugar company and the farmers who grow sugar beets today. Witnesses for the farmers testified that the farmers were not getting their share of the profits of the sugar industry. James Bodkin of Colorado, who testified, said that as a rule the farmers are hostile to the Great Western company.

"We can raise enough sugar," he said, "to supply the country. What we need is an assurance that the sugar interest cannot squeeze us out."

Mr. Bodkin described the methods by which the sugar refiners stifle competition. He told of one independent refinery which failed because of capital, caused by the failure of a sugar company official to advance money he had promised.

URGE BOND ISSUES TO IMPROVE RIVERS

Waterways Assn. Wants States to Take Action If Congress Should Be Slow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The issue of bonds by the federal government to cover the cost of improvement of rivers and harbors was urged before the National Rivers and Harbors congress here today. If the government declined to make such an issue or if congress should be slow to appropriate money for the improvements the issue of bonds by the states was advocated by many speakers.

Mayor Gaynor of New York, Governor Hadley of Missouri, Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston and Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, Tex., were among those who favored the bond issue plan.

Other speakers were Secretary of the Interior, Fisher, General Dixey, chief of army engineers; Senator Fletcher of Florida and August Belmont of New York.

Mayor Gaynor favored the issue of bonds, but disliked the referendum method of getting it. The experience of his own state with the referendum, he said, did not hold out much hope to those who demand immediate improvements of waterways.

He added that the present high cost of living might be laid to rebates allowed by the railroads, which could be offset by the intelligent development of waterways to compel the reduction of freight charges.

Governor Hadley advocated that Missouri be given complete control of the Missouri river within the state.

TO REVIEW HIGHWAY BILL DECISION OF JUDGE BLISS

DENVER, Dec. 7.—The decision of the late Judge C. N. Bliss of the Denver district court on the validity of house bill No. 200, known as the highway bill, will be reviewed by the supreme court. Attorneys for the commissioners of Provoers county filed a transcript of the record of the trial and a list of alleged errors today. It is probable that the case will be decided by the supreme court in a few weeks as attorneys for both sides are willing to have the case expedited.

AMERICAN SHEEP RAISERS TAKE HONORS OFF CANADA

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Canadian success in capturing first honors in sheep judging at the international stock show came to an end today after years of triumph and American sheep raisers garnered most of the blue ribbons.

Another feature of the day's winnings was the success of J. E. McCarre of Tolono, Ill., who won 14 out of the possible 16 firsts in Poland China hog classes, and also took eight seconds and 10 thirds.

COL. ZEPH T. HILL DEAD

Well-Known Colorado National Guard Officer, Succumbs at Brother's Home in Baltimore

DENVER, Dec. 7.—Telegrams received here tonight announce the death today in Baltimore, Md., of Col. Zeph T. Hill of this city, for years one of the best-known officers of the Colorado National Guard.

IMPROVEMENTS BEGIN AT ONCE

DR. RUTLEDGE IN FULL CHARGE M. W. A. WORK

About $200,000 for Buildings. $100,000 for Equipment, Supplies, Etc.

Work will be started immediately on the improvements at the Modern Woodmen of America headquarters at an estimated cost of $300,000.

The special committee, consisting of board officials of the national organization and sent here by the executive committee, gave Dr. J. A. Rutledge, superintendent of the sanatorium, permission to proceed with the work according to his judgment.

"I know that work will be started by January," Dr. Rutledge said last night. "But if I had a force of men here at once it would start work in the morning."

Of the $200,000 to be expended, about $200,000 will be used in the buildings. The rest of the money will be spent for equipment for the new power plant, and facilities for the hospital, main building and operating rooms. Dr. Rutledge plans to spend between $100,000 and $150,000 in furnishing a laboratory, which he plans to make the best equipped and modern in the west.

Dr. Rutledge probably will be in direct charge of all the minor work, although it is possible that he will place two or three minor contracts with local people. He intends starting work today by gathering a force of skilled mechanics and laborers.

"I want to have a large camp established here within the next week or so at least," Dr. Rutledge continued. "I am going to insist upon getting the best men that I can. The size of the camp will depend largely upon whether or not I submit some of the contracts."

The members of the special committee returned home yesterday. Before leaving they placed everything in Dr. Rutledge's hands.

Of the proposed improvements there will be a new main building which will cost about $100,000. In addition will be a reception hospital costing about $50,000. The power plant will cost about $30,000. Work is under way now on the superintendent's home and a garage and stable.

Reyes, Disguised as Discrep Laborer, Escapes From Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7.—Disguised as a decent laborer walking with a stick, General Bernardo Reyes, once commander of the Mexican army, but now charged with inciting revolution in his country, came into Brownsville, Tex., today, according to official dispatches received here. He had not shaved his beard, as had been reported. What are supposed to be the Reyes plans or what was done on the river, were not mentioned in the dispatches.

The official report came from Major Jose Pena, commandant at Matamoros, who says the general, accompanied by Miguel Quiroga and David Reyes Retana, left a train at Rosita, Junction, Mexico, just south of Matamoros, where they rode to the town on the American side of the river.

By automobile, by train and on horseback, they had covered the distance southward from Palmarillas, Tex., to Meyer, on the Mexican side, and thence down the river to the coast.

A report published today by El Imparcial, but with a lack of confirmation, is that Dr. Espinosa de los Monteros 10 days ago crossed the frontier into Mexico near Juarez at the head of a considerable body of men recruited by a prominent business man of San Antonio.

It also states that with Monteros is a board of strategy, including Major Carlos Gonzales and Juan Palacios and Captains Luis Perez, Manuel Gomez and Tomas Bravo.

He is credited with having two machine guns and a well equipped signal service corps.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—According to information received here tonight, General Reyes has crossed the Rio Grande into Mexico, where he was received by a band of loyal followers. The report said nothing about the general's plans.

LA FOLLETTE WILL BE ELECTED, SAYS PINCHOT

Declares Roosevelt Would Have Been Choice of Progressives Had He Not Refused to Run

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Gifford Pinchot tonight told the members of the Chicago Press club that "party had lost its power, because a greater than party is here."

He defined the "greater" as the issue of social justice.

Earlier in the day he told a gathering of Progressive Republicans that Senator La Follette would be nominated and elected president.

"Senator Dooliver might have been the nominee of the Progressives had he lived," said the speaker. "Theodore Roosevelt still would be had he not refused to run," he added, and he told the newspaper men he was in a position to know the ex-president meant what he said.

MULLER'S ASSISTANT IN HOSPITAL DIES

B. Grosser Was to Have Been Tried for Hospital Shortage Today

DENVER, Dec. 7.—On the eve of his trial which was set for tomorrow in the criminal division of the district court on charges of forgery, grand larceny and embezzlement, Bruno Grosser, for years associated as assistant with the late Alfred Muller, secretary of the National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives, died suddenly this afternoon at his home. The cause of death is given as heart failure, superinduced by worry over his impending trial.

Grosser had been accused of alleged complicity with Muller in the embezzlement or upwards of $75,000 of the hospital's funds. Because of the widespread rumors following Muller's death that he had committed suicide a few days before the fact of the embezzlement was made public, rumors were current this evening that Grosser had taken his own life. To disprove the truth of these rumors the family of the dead man have announced that they will insist upon a post-mortem examination.

Of late Grosser had been the victim, his physicians say, of insomnia and he could be judged to sleep only by the use of opiates. Representatives of the district attorney's office, it is said, will attend the post-mortem because of talk to the effect that Grosser may have died from an overdose of an opiate.

He was 59 years old and he is survived by his wife and two children. No funeral arrangements will be made pending the arrival of a brother, Hugo Grosser, city statistician of Chicago.

Muller died Jan. 2, 1911, at 3:30 p.m. and his remains were immediately cremated. The cause of his death was given as heart failure.

LA FOLLETTE HAS BILL TO PRESERVE GRAZING LANDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senator La Follette introduced a bill today to improve and preserve public grazing lands. The measure would divide the range into districts under control of the secretary of agriculture for the rearing of worn-out areas and a systematic war on plants and animals that prey upon cattle. Nominal charges are to be assessed against those using the land.

The bill has the approval of the National Conservation association, of which Gifford Pinchot is president.

DR. BLUE REACHES FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Dr. Rupert Blue of the marine hospital service, who was recalled from Hawaii following the death of Surgeon General Wyman, and who has been prominently mentioned as the probable successor to Dr. Wyman's office, arrived here today from Honolulu on the steamer Siberia. Dr. Blue will proceed at once to Washington.

STRIKE O.I. NEAR ALAMOSA

Is First Discovery of This Nature in San Luis Valley—Well Down 3,200 Feet

ALAMOSA, Colo., Dec. 7.—Oil is reported to have been struck for the first time in the San Luis valley in a 3,200-foot well bored by the San Luis Valley Oil and Gas company near the town of Mosca, 12 miles northeast of this city. After several barrels of oil had been pumped from the well a section below the casing caved in. A new well will be driven at once, the company says.

WOMAN WHO KILLED HER EX-HUSBAND ACQUITTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Mary L. Sudall, last July, was acquitted of the charge of murder by a jury in the superior court today.

Sudall had obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce after a showing in court in which Mrs. Sudall appeared in an unfavorable light. She called upon Mrs. Sudall and demanded back a ring belonging to his mother. Mrs. Sudall refused and a quarrel ensued.

J. B. McNAMARA CAUSED OWN DOWNFALL

Boastfulness Was First Circumstance That Led McNamara to Talk

NEW DETAILS OF ARRESTS

Investigator Says A "Higher Up" Will Be Taken Into Custody Soon

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 7.—"I've got hundreds of thousands of dollars and the American Federation of Labor back of me. It took only $30,000 to clear Vincent Altman of Chicago, and if they could not convict him, they can't convict me."

This boast, attributed today by Detective MacLaren to James B. McNamara as the latter was being taken on a train from Detroit to Chicago on the night of April 12 last, caused Orville E. McNamara, then also under arrest, to become angered with McNamara for his indiscreet statement and was the first circumstance that led McNamara to break with his companion and eventually to confess his connection with various dynamiting explosions throughout the country.

McNamara's real confession had been saved for the trial of James B. and John J. McNamara, but this evidence as well as all that gathered by the state was turned over today to the United States government. The federal grand jury heard McNamara's story all day and will hear more of it tomorrow, laying the foundation for their probe into the alleged dynamiting conspiracy that extended from coast to coast in the last three years.

BROTHERS NOT BROUGHT IN.

The McNamaras were not brought before the federal grand jury. It may be that McNamara's story may be regarded as sufficient and the other two be removed to San Quentin penitentiary without further interrogation here.

Details of what McNamara knows of the alleged conspiracy were given to the grand jury today. That his story implicates other men in the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, became known through various sources. McNamara alleged that persons other than John J. McNamara, the secretary-treasurer, paid him for the "20 jobs" of dynamiting that he accomplished since 1907.

As a question has been raised as to the competency of testimony from convicted persons, it was considered unlikely that the revelations of the McNamaras, if any, would be of consequence, for such testimony could not be used in court against those indicted. The story of McNamara, however, who has not yet even been brought to trial, will be of great value to the investigators and the state will not try on the indictments against him until the federal authorities are "through." Even then, it was stated tonight on good authority, District Attorney Fredericks will recommend his discharge on account of signal service rendered.

Believed 82,500-Acre Tract Lying Near Meeker Will Be Available in January, 1912

MEEKER, Colo., Dec. 7.—Pending before the United States forestry department in Washington is a recommendation, urging the throwing open to public entry a tract of farming and grazing land comprising 82,500 acres, situated within the bounds of the White river forest reserve.

This land, the line of which begins about 20 miles northeast of Meeker, lies along the northern boundary of the reserve, and passes Williams Fork, Thornburg and Axial.

For a long time it has been contended that this land was not properly included in the reserve, being much more valuable for farming and grazing purposes than for the timber growing upon it, and forestry experts, who this summer were sent into this district to go over the land, are agreed on this point.

It is estimated that the lands will be ready for entry about January, 1912.

EX-GOVERNOR TO HEAD GEORGIA DEMOCRATS

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 7.—An official bulletin from all of the 148 counties of the state show that ex-Governor J. M. Brown swept the state in the Democratic gubernatorial primaries today. Eighty-four counties gave ex-Governor Brown 200 of the 200 of a total of 1,000.

PRESIDENT'S SECOND

United States particularly flattered, the president recommended to congress the following legislation:

Suggests tariff Act Amendment.

The enactment of a law providing for the fulfillment of obligations assumed by the United States in connection with the settlement of the tariff controversy, the passage of a law to forbid the carriage of opium and other "habit-forming drugs" in interstate commerce, the formation of a central office in the nature of a national chamber of commerce, that would keep all such organizations in touch with commercial developments abroad and the enactment into laws of an active legislation providing for ad-vance in the diplomatic and consular service upon a merit basis instead of through political preferment.

Amendments were made by the president to the tariff act, and it was stated that its main purpose was to remove the tariff from the hands of congress and place it in the hands of the president.

BIG ESTATE MAY BE TIED UP FOR NEXT CENTURY

Property General Strong, Valued at $5,000,000 Not to Be Divided Until Grandchild Dead 21 Years

DENVER, Dec. 7.—The $5,000,000 estate of the late Gen. Henry Strong of Lake Geneva, Wis., father of Mrs. Charles Denison of this city, may be tied up for the next century according to the terms of the will left by deceased. The entire estate is left in trust and may not be divided until the youngest surviving grandchild has been dead for 21 years. The youngest grandchild is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jameson of Hubbard's Woods, Ill., now 2 years old.

According to the terms of the will, one-half is set aside for educational purposes. One-quarter reverts to the estate to accumulate and the income from the remaining $1,250,000 is divided during the lifetime among the four children: Mrs. Charles Denison, Mrs. J. A. Jameson, Mrs. Theodore Strong and Gordon Strong, all of Chicago. After the youngest grandchild has been dead 21 years the estate will be divided equally among all direct descendants.

Trade, which becomes year by year more important to the industrial and commercial welfare of the United States, we should have a flexibility of tariff sufficient to give and take of negotiation by the department of state on behalf of our commerce and industry.

Small Committee to Manage.

Outlining the idea of a central "chamber of commerce" Mr. Taft suggested that such an organization might be managed by a committee composed of a small number of those now actively engaged in carrying on the work of some of the large associations of this kind with members ex-officio from the state and commerce and labor departments. In leading up to this suggestion Mr. Taft showed that in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, the value of American exports increased $300,000,000 over the previous year, but indicated that further increase was possible.

The president's explanation of the sudden dispatch of one-quarter of the army to the Mexican border, agreed with the unofficial reasons for that troop movement given last spring, but he showed in a confidential letter to General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, of the army, that there was no doubt in his mind as to what he would do if he had found American lives and property in danger.

"It seems my duty as commander-in-chief," said the president in this letter, made public for the first time in today's message, "to place troops in sufficient number where, in Congress shall direct that they enter Mexico to save American lives and property. An effective movement may be promptly made."

The outcome of the troop movement, Mr. Taft declared, was entirely satisfactory. The recent attempt to undermine the Madero government in Mexico so far as it was engineered in the United States, he said, had been met with the same policy the government pursued in regard to the revolutionists who overthrew the government of President Diaz.

President Diaz, the so-called neutrality statutes were enforced against all in regard to China now in the throes of revolution. Mr. Taft had little to say except to explain the loans placed in that country by American and other foreign capitalists. In the present war between Italy and Turkey the president pointed out the United States "has no direct political interests."

Son of Hetty Green
Didn't Order "Paid" Writeup; Wins Suit

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Edward H. Green, son of Hetty Green, "the richest woman in the world," has never employed anybody to "write him up," he testified today in a suit against him brought by an "historical association," which claimed he owned it $300 for a book containing portraits and biographical sketches of prominent men.

"Did you not employ the association to write your up?" he was asked.

"I did not."

"But about this time there was a column article in many papers representing you as an automobilist. You did not pay this association to write this?"

"My name has been mentioned in the papers many times, but I never employed anybody to write me up," was the response.

The jury, after being out five minutes, returned a verdict for Green.

HYDE MAKES SOME HEADWAY

VANAS, Dec. 7.—Much of the effectiveness of the testimony of Miss Elizabeth Gordon, a nurse who testified in the trial of Dr. H. Clark Hyde for the alleged murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, was destroyed when Attorney Walsh cross-examined her late today.

Miss Gordon was the state's star witness regarding the injection, alleged to have been put into the arm of Miss Margaret Swope by Dr. Hyde. The physician says the injection was camphorated oil, and the state's chief contradiction of this statement was Miss Gordon's testimony that she smelled the arm at the point the needle entered, and after it had been withdrawn and detected no odor.

"Have you ever given hypodermic injection of camphorated oil?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"No," replied the nurse.

"Do you know what kind of oil is used in connection with the camphor?"

"No, but I think it is olive oil."

"Do you know that the amount of oil used in a hypodermic of this kind is so small that its odor cannot be noticed?"

J. D. McNAMARA CAUSED

fact he took good care never to danger human life," remarked Assistant District Attorney Joseph Ford tonight.

Malcolm MacLaren, the Burns detective who arrested J. B. McNamara and Manigal, and who has been in close operation with Oscar Lawler, the reliably appointed prosecutor for the government concerning the federal investigation, was outside the grand jury chamber today waiting for Manigal, while waiting, MacLaren gave to Associated Press a complete version of many important details of the evidence which led up to the arrest of McNamara, with McNamara and how the thoughtlessness of James B. McNamara on the journey from Detroit to Chicago gave the detectives ground for persuading McNamara to confess his crimes.

The statements of McNamara were made, according to MacLaren, in the presence of Detective Sergeant Givdinger and William Reed of Chicago, Raymond Burns, a son of William J. Burns, and MacLaren himself. MacLaren told in minute detail the time, hours and places of his shadowing of McNamara for a long period prior to his arrest. When he commented McNamara with the knowledge had thus gained the dynamiter decided to break with his companion and I all he knew.

"About the seventh or eighth of April last," said MacLaren, "I picked McNamara at his home in Chicago. He had just arrived from Springfield, Ill., where he had blown up the municipal tower. He had stopped at Indianapolis and obtained $400 from J. McNamara for the Springfield job and the one at Milwaukee.

Burns Says Suspect

"We shadowed him the next day as he went down town with his wife and went to the Hibernian bank. Our office happened to be right across the street and I told Mr. Burns that if he convict Altman and they never can convict me. You fellows don't want me for no safe blowing. You want me for that job in Los Angeles.

"Here it was that McNamara reached out from the berth and grabbed McNamara by the hair saying 'Say fellow, do you know what you are talking about?' I know what I'm talking about you pinhead," answered J. B. and McNamara dropped back in his berth with the remark, 'All right if you do go ahead.'

"McManigal had nothing more to say. Along towards morning J. B. took a different tack.

"All you fellows," he said to us, "have your price now what is it?" Biddinger told J. B. it would take a great deal as there were a lot of us.

J. B. finally offered $30,000 if we would let him off before reaching Chicago and give him 36 hours to reach the man upstairs of whom he had spoken. "Remember, I've got a lot of backing," he added, "and if you fellows don't come across we'll get you—and you—and you." He pointed to each of us threatening.

McManigal Breaks Down.

"After we reached Chicago Burns talked to McNamara and J. B. separately. I tipped my chief that McNamara was the more likely of the two to give up. He had a family, whereas J. B. did not. Burns talked to McNamara all afternoon giving him details of what we had on him, how we had trailed his movements and knew everything he had done for some time. Then Burns told McNamara to send for him when he got ready to give his answer and left.

"I had a long talk with McNamara too, and told him that I had seen him say good-by to his wife and children. I described how he had kissed them and informed him that there would be a good chance that he never would see them again as a free man and that it was his duty to save them.

"That night at 9 o'clock McNamara sent for Mr. Burns and in the presence of a secretary gave my chief a long statement until 4 a. m. That was the confession was made and of course the real details of it never have been made public. We had prepared to have him tell it on the stand in the trial but now the federal government can use it.

"I have been with him every night since last April and brought him to Los Angeles. I have talked a great deal with him. He is a good fellow at heart but reckless. He never would hurt anybody, but he took his pay for the dynamiting jobs and did what he was told. He was on the inside in all that happened and learned from J. B. how the whole thing was planned."

Ford Corroborates Detective.

Assistant District Attorney Ford, to whom had been delegated the task of handling the evidence and examination of the witnesses for the state, discussed McNamara's revelation tonight.

"All that MacLaren says is so," he remarked, "for McNamara corroborates all of it. Of course when McNamara made his first confession in Chicago, time did not permit him to go into details. Since he came out here, we took him out nearly every day and wrote down each day the new things he remembered until today we know all that he possibly could recall.

"His story was valuable, not only for the facts themselves but for the clues it gave us, to work up other ends of the case. We ran down all hints and clues and in every way his story was corroborated by us. We made a search of hotel registers, records of express shipments, railroad tickets and many other things that I am not at liberty, even now, to disclose, owing to the federal investigations."

From the district attorney's office today Deputy Hill accompanied MacLaren to the federal building carrying suit cases of evidence including books, papers and data of many kinds. When the federal grand jury adjourned MacLaren walked back to the Hall of Records where Mr. Lawler has a room in the district attorney's office.

Jurisdiction Restricts Action.

McNamara's story, it is believed, will form the basis for any indictments returned but as the only persons who could not be shown to have been implicated in conspiracies within the jurisdiction of the court or to have transported dynamite unlawfully to a point within the jurisdiction of the court it is said that the investigation here can extend only to those conspiracies that are alleged to have resulted in the explosion of the Llewellyn Iron works and the Los Angeles Times. John J. McNamara pleaded guilty to having directed the explosion of the Llewellyn plant. McNamara who confessed to having placed the dynamite, alleges that John J. paid him the money therefor. McNamara's mention of other persons who talked to him about the Llewellyn plant or of the persons whom J. B. McNamara may have told him wanted to see the Times destroyed are possibly silent subjects of investigation.

Sequel L. Brown, Chief Investigator for State District Attorney John D. Fredericks in the McNamara trial, waived today concerning a trip to San Francisco with those arrests in view and finally did not go.

"The next arrest in this case will be a 'higher up,' he said, 'a man well known in the labor world, and it will take place soon.'"

URGE LEGISLATION TO IMPROVE RURAL LIFE

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—National legislation for the improvement of conditions in the rural communities of the country was recommended by the active members of the executive committee of the Farmers National congress today.

Among the legislation urged by the organization are the following: General parcels post, better facilities for agricultural education in rural schools, federal aid for county roads and inland waterways, conservation of soil fertility, demarcation between dairy products and imitations so the consumer may know just what he buys, and a federal pure seed law.

The committee opposes the free distribution of seeds by contractors.

The members also expressed themselves against a ship subsidy and against interstate liquor traffic into dry territory.

State Treasurer Will Not Pay Man Who, He Says, Neglects Duty

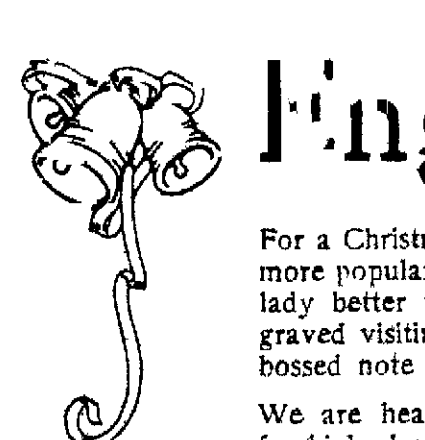

DENVER, Dec. 7.—Governor Shafroth, Attorney General Griffith and District Attorney Elliott held a conference today to consider ways to prosecute detectives operating without licenses, and druggists, rooming houses etc. selling liquor without licenses.

Just before the conference State Treasurer Kenahan threw down the gauntlet to Elliott by announcing that he would hold up the latter's salary until he could "do his duty."

Elliott can hale me into court for not cashing his warrants next time. And I'll tell the court why I won't pay them. The reason is that Elliott is not doing his duty. I won't pay any more until he does, says Kenahan.

LAWTON MAY RETAIN SIGHT INJURED EYE

It is possible that L. P. Lawton, whose right eye was seriously injured last Monday, may retain the entire sight of the eye. Dr. C. Magruder, who is attending him, said last night that the eyeball can be saved, and although nothing definite is known as yet, it is thought that the sight of the eye also can be retained. Mr. Lawton's condition yesterday was much improved.

HIGHGRADING CASE IS

The question of making permanent the temporary injunction against alleged highgraders of the Cripple Creek district will be up for consideration before Judge Robert E. Lewis of the federal court, Denver, December 22. There was to have been a hearing yesterday, but the defendants asked for a continuance so that additional evidence in the case could be gathered.

The suit is brought by the Portland Gold Mining company, Golden, Cycle Mining company and Stratton's Independence, Limited. About 50 men are named as defendants. A temporary injunction, issued last month, prevents them from buying gold until they have submitted it to the superintendents of the plaintiff companies or Secretary B. D. Woodruff of the Cripple Creek District Mine Owners and Operators association.

It was alleged that the defendants encouraged mine employees to become dishonest, assuring them of immunity from arrest, in case they sold pure bullion and high-grade concentrates gathered during their hours of work at the mines and mills. It was also alleged that certain saloons in Cripple Creek were acting as fences for the highgraders.

BIG WATER MAIN FINISHED

Colorado Springs' new 16-inch water main extension is finished, and by the first of the year Superintendent McReynolds hopes to have the extension answering the purpose for which it was intended in giving to consumers, especially in the eastern and southern parts of town, an equal pressure. He plans to test the line within a few days. The big main connects with the High Line reservoir and enters the city at Madison street, going east to the city limits and thence south. Subsidiary mains run west from the big pipe. Motor valves will make it possible to regulate the flow and distribute the pressure evenly throughout the city; or, in case of an emergency, the flow can be increased in any zone.

SON LATE PRESIDENT WILL BE IN TABFAU

Chester Alan Arthur to Poss for Benefit Boys Club. The Patronesses

The society men of Colorado Springs are answering the call of charity by concerted action in volunteering their services as actors in the tableaux to be given at the Antlers on the night of December 14, for the benefit of the Boys Club association. Among the most prominent of these is Chester Alan Arthur, son of the former president of the United States, and who is rehearsing daily for the purpose of posing in the living pictures as the "Cavalier" from the brush of Meisner.

This scene will be only one of the many delightful treats in store for those who are fortunate enough to attend the society tableaux. Abbot Thayer's world-famous portrait of "Poverty," with Miss Winifred Robinson and two little tots as the representatives will be shown. The "Madonna and Child," made famous by Jessie Wilcox Smith, is the part assigned to Mrs. J. Davis. Whistler is said to have used brushes as big as a house-painter's, a large canvas and a table for a palette, but in his painting of "Mother" which will be posed for by Mrs. M. Hamp, "the smooth hair, the folded hands, the lines about the drooping mouth, the fixity of gaze and the inclination of the head all express an intensity of character which is almost poignant." The portrait of Mme. Le Brun and Child, by herself, will be posed by Mrs. H. Alexander Smith.

"Mrs. Francis Drexel Smith will appear as 'Judith,' and a remarkable similarity has been secured between this living picture and the original canvas. In a group of three, the 'Gainsborough Group,' will be seen with Mrs. Joseph Harrison and children as the principals. 'Bucchanan,' the unique canvas of Romney's, will be made to show the buoyant side of life, now leading the sacrificial kid, with a hound bounding joyously by her side; Mrs. E. A. Rosenfeld will create this picture in the society poses. Gainsborough's 'Mrs. Siddons,' the woman of the world in modish attire, 'in all the charm and spontaneity of her vivacious mood,' will be acted by Mrs. Ashton Potter of Broadmoor. Mrs. Lewis Gibbs Carpenter and Daniel W. Knowlton will appear 'midst the most elaborate stage settings, in their representations of 'The Seers.'"

In a costume which has been in her family for a century or more, Mrs. Elizabeth Case Goddard will assist the local charity by posing as "Queen Elizabeth," by Lucas de Heere. Miss Abbie Lansing, as Maurice, Quentin Latour's "Madame de Pompadour," will show in her pose one of the most celebrated portrait subjects of this artist.

"Penelope Boothby." Sir Joshua Reynolds produced two or three thousand pictures but probably the most famous of these is his "Penelope Boothby," which will be reproduced in living pictures by Miss Dewar.

Among the brilliant leaders of the National Portrait school, which is the glory of English art, is Sir Martin Archer Shee, one of his paintings will be posed during the charity event at the Antlers by Mrs. Joseph Harrison as her second part in the exhibition of living models. Mr. and Mrs. H. Alexander Smith will act in a selected subject. Mrs. John Jay Knox as "Hope," by George Frederick Watts, the most notable English portrait painter of the nineteenth century, has imported from abroad the costume for this act. "The recent dramatization of the 'White Sister' will show the part of the leading woman in this cast in a living picture, by Mrs. Charles Farnsworth. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis will be grouped in a representation of 'Wedded,' Miss Lucille Muhlberg who created so much favorable comment as a Spanish dancer in the recent Kirman, will pose as 'Carmencita,' in this recent society charity. Remington's 'Indian' will be taken by Mr. Walter Andrews. Mrs. William Howland has consented to appear as 'Clara,' the enchantress by Romney. The greatest feat of all will be at-

DIAPEPSIN IS SPLENDID FOR YOUR STOMACH

A Little Diapepsin Makes Your Out-of-Order Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapepsin.

If your Stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak Stomachs should take a little Diapepsin occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, Sour risings, Gas on Stomach or Belching of undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Sick Stomach, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved in five minutes after taking a little Diapepsin.

Go to your drugist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin now, and you will always go to the table with hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

tempted, which if it is not the most remarkable success, will be the most gigantic failure; no one who sees this picture will ever forget it—members of the Boys Club showing Marie Bashkirtseff's "The Meeting."

COAL MINER BADLY HURT
Antonie Dixon sustained several broken ribs yesterday afternoon when he was caught between a coal car and the wall at the Pike's Peak mine. Dixon is in a serious condition at Glenview hospital.

SALARY ORDINANCE UP
Measure to Be Considered by City Council Today—Policemen Get Advance in Salary
City Attorney McKasson is putting the final touches to the proposed salary ordinance for presentation to the council at today's meeting. At a conference yesterday, J. A. Himebaugh, commissioner of public safety, presented his plans for increased salaries in the police and fire departments.

The fire and police chiefs, he plans, will receive in the future $150 a month instead of $125; the captain of police and assistant fire chief will be raised from $100 to $115 a month; for the police sergeants working 12 hours a day this will be an advance of from $85 to $95 a month; the city detectives will get $100 a month, which will mean a $15 increase for two of them. The police clerk will be relieved from detective work and will have his salary reduced from $100 to $90 a month. The salary of the barn men and motorcycle men will be raised from $80 to $85, while the patrolmen will be advanced from $75 to $80 a month. Commissioner Himebaugh planned

Best for Asthma, Cough, Bronchitis
HYO...
Why need anyone suffer from any throat or nose troubles when a soothing, healing HYO... is guaranteed to banish all mucus, or mucus, or mucus. The undersigned, herewith, recommends HYO... to all who are afflicted with asthma, cough, or bronchitis. HYO... was used by my wife for bronchitis and asthma and I used it for bronchitis.

COAL
If you are not using Pikeview Lump you are not using the best lignite for your furnace. Remember it is screened over a 4 1/2 Shaker Screen. The best fuel, for it's absolutely clean and hard.

MERCHANTS WARNED AS TO USE ELECTRIC WIRING

Charles L. Reasoner, city electrician, has issued the following warning and request to merchants in this city in order to prevent, as far as possible, Christmas fires caused by bad wiring in connection with decorations in stores.

To Merchants: Contemplating Holiday Displays or Decorations. Holiday decorations in the interests of public safety the electrical inspector feels warranted at this season of the year in directing attention to the hazard that may arise from the improper arrangement of electric wiring and lights in connection with show window decorations and similar displays involving the use of inflammable material.

Experience proves that most fires originating from such causes result from a want of circumspection on the part of those who are most conversant with the electrical fire hazard of the necessary safeguards for its prevention.

The tremendous loss of life and property in other cities due to carelessness in preparing holiday displays should convince the most skeptical that every known precaution should be taken to prevent accidents.

If you contemplate arranging for special displays or decorations during this season will you kindly give us an opportunity to go over the matter with you so that any suggestion we may make as to the proper manner in which the electrical details should be carried out, can be submitted prior to the execution of your plans.

Trusting you will extend us this courtesy, I beg to remain, very respectfully yours,

(Signed) CHAS. L. REASONER,
Electrical Inspector

WOMEN IN LEGAL BATTLE FOR POSSESSION CLAIM

Ellen E. Jack plaintiff, and Mrs. Josephine E. Smith, defendant, started a fight in the district court yesterday for the possession of a mining claim located in the mountains near Colorado Springs. Mrs. Jack better known to the people of this section as Captain Jack, is the proprietor of a resort on the High Drive, and until the trouble over this claim arose she and Mrs. Smith were the best of friends.

About seven years ago Mrs. Jack located a claim near her home, naming it Mrs. No. 1 and kept up the development work for a number of years. She borrowed $150 from Mrs. Smith, the loan to be paid back within six months. Mrs. Smith says she let it run until 1908, when she was forced to foreclose.

During the summer of 1910 Mrs. Jack relocated the claim, saying that Mrs. Smith had failed to do the required $100 development work. Mrs. Smith alleges that Mrs. Jack jumped the claim and refused to permit her men to work it, even saying she would kill them if they tried to. When she went to Mrs. Jack's home to try to settle matters, Mrs. Jack swore out a warrant for her arrest on a charge of assault. The case never came to trial.

This case is being tried before Judge Morris and a jury of six.

Five Minutes Sometimes Makes A Big Difference

If You Are Suffering the Tortures of Indigestion and Have to Wait Until Someone Runs to the Drug Store for a Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

Free Trial Package.

The instant relief afforded poor overburdened stomachs by the use of a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet should be a reason for constantly keeping a box on hand—at home and at the office as well.

The Stomach Welcomes Quick Relief.

A Stuart's Tablet not only aids digestion, but it actually does the digesting itself. In other words, it furnishes exactly the same elements for the digestion of food as the natural juices of the stomach. The stomach, therefore, is not called upon to do any extra work except to churn the juices furnished by the tablet and then push the digested food along into the intestines, where it will be still further digested and the strength taken up by the blood to be carried to the muscles and nerves of the body.

So by taking a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after a meal you give the stomach the rest it needs in which to mend itself and grow well again. And you absolutely prevent the souring of any food, the formation of any poisonous gases, belching, foul breath or constipation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have done more for humanity and have caused more rejoicing than any other one agency that can be named.

Every druggist everywhere sells and personally recommends Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The price is 50 cents per box. If you first wish to try them a sample package will be sent you free if you write to F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Lemonade Gave Auditor Liddy H's Start in Life

M. A. Liddy of Manitou, state auditor, earned his first dollar and $99 other dollars with it by selling lemonade on the Fourth of July, 1889, according to an interview published in a Denver paper. He says that he never made money so fast since, and also that he has never been without that much money since the long-to-be remembered day.

He says:

"I earned my first dollar on the Fourth of July, 1889. I made the dollar and 99 more that day by selling lemonade. I hardly remember, but I am sure it was real lemonade. I sold I am sure I gave my patrons their money's worth."

"It was Arlington, Wis. The day was a great day that year, and the celebration for the new people from all the country round I wanted to get a start. I was about 18 years old."

"Securing a vacant lot and a few pine boards, I set up my stand on the main street. Between two business houses I bought my stock of lemons and sugar on credit. If the day had been rainy perhaps I would never have made good but it was a scorching hot July day, and the crowd was thrifty. I have never made money as fast since."

"I had to get first one boy and then another I knew to help. I had four or five working. Some were peeling lemons, others were carrying water, and still others handed out the lemonade."

"I acted as cashier. When the sun went down I was afraid business was over but the heat continued and the crowd got thirstier. That was in the days before every corner had a soda fountain, and lemonade was a great drink of festive occasions. It was late that night when I pulled off the boys and started home. I stayed up until the sun came up that next morning, counting over that money, and there was just $100. I have never been without that much since."

Auditor Liddy has been in the lime-light lately because of his stand with regard to state funds for highway improvements. He refuses to sign warrants for the work because the senate journal does not show the result of the final vote authorizing the use of money for road purposes. Work is held up in El Paso and other counties as a result, and Auditor Liddy has been made defendant in mandamus suits by various counties in an effort to compel him to issue warrants for road funds. There seems to be little doubt that underhand means were employed to tear the record from the senate journal, but Liddy cites in defense of his stand that the state constitution expressly provides that the final vote on appropriation bills must be recorded in the journal.

MANY ATTRACTED TO SALE FOR BOYS CLUB

The annual sale of articles made by the members of the Colorado Springs Boys' Club now in progress at Buick's store, is attracting quite a number of purchasers. The fine array of useful and ornamental articles from the boys' room of the club house bears witness to the skill the boys have gained and the fruits of their industry is most commendable. Each boy is taught to make two articles alike one of which he is permitted to take home and the other is included among the articles for sale for the benefit of the association.

Among the articles are umbrellas, stands, work baskets, grocery files, children's rockets, plate racks, magazine racks, book racks, taborettes, coat hangers, glass boards, whisk broom holders, needle racks, match safes, toy animals, etc. The sale will continue today and tomorrow and tomorrow evening from 7 to 8 o'clock.

D. A. Dill, well known auctioneer will dispose of the articles still unsold.

Mrs. B. T. Webster, chairman of the industrial committee has charge of the sale. Assisting are Mrs. H. S. Hawks, Mrs. W. A. Anderson, Mrs. W. W. Williamson, Mrs. Mary Loria, Mrs. Fred Priole, Mrs. Shackelford, Mrs. G. A. Taff, Miss Frances Rouse, Miss Jeannette Scholz and others.

News of Local Courts

Jack Gruell pleaded guilty to a charge of assault, in Justice Gowdy's court yesterday morning, and was fined $10 and costs. Gruell is said to have engaged in a fight with Gustave Shippl, a cook at Glickner sanatorium, Wednesday morning, and as a result a warrant was sworn-out for his arrest by the sheriff's office, Shippl being the complaining witness.

Joshua Hobbs, charged with committing a statutory offense against Myrtle Clay, aged 14, waived preliminary examination yesterday afternoon in Justice Gowdy's court, and was bound over to the district court. In default of bond of $1,500 he was remanded to the county jail.

Pleading guilty to a charge of larceny, John Williams, aged 16, was committed to the state reformatory at Buena Vista by District Judge Morris yesterday afternoon. It is said that Williams stole a motorcycle from a resident of this city about three weeks ago and rode it to Pueblo, where he was arrested and brought back.

THE DAY'S NEWS IN SPORT CIRCLES

GRILLO'S COMMENT ON SPORT WORLD TOPICS

By J. ED. GRILLO

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Every now and then some of the uninitiated have complained because the contract between ball players and the club is not properly for the life of the ball player. On the face of it, this is not without a reason. To be idolized by the fans and to be the center of attraction wherever they go has a peculiar effect on some young men, but it is the man in charge of the team who has to stand the brunt of their peculiarities.

Baseball fans the country over are hoping for the speedy recovery of Hughie Jennings. Jennings' popularity is widespread. His congenial disposition, the fact that he is always good natured off or on the field has undoubtedly made him the most popular man identified with baseball. Jennings strives to please, yet he is a strict disciplinarian; an ardent worker for the success of his team, but a fair and square rival, who always has the good wishes of hostile crowds whenever his team may appear.

Had it not been for the Detroit club, which gave Jennings a chance to show his ability as a manager, he would have been remembered as a brilliant player of a decade or so ago. But his engagement as the head of the Detroit team gave him the opportunity to show his ability in another line of the game, for today Jennings is counted among the most successful managers in baseball. It is to be hoped that the accident with which he met will not rob the game of one of its finest characters.

From all accounts Ty Cobb has made just as much of a hit on the stage as he did on the ball field. The Georgia Peach is really delivering the goods in a part in the "College Widow," though he dislikes the stage and would quit it at once were it not for the fact that he is being well paid for his trouble.

There are those who believe that Cobb is taking long chances of injuring his future in baseball by his present theatrical tour. This thing of being up nights and being constantly in the limelight is not calculated to help an athlete, and Cobb may suffer as have others, notwithstanding the fact that he is a young man of remarkable ability.

While it is a question open to argument as to whether present football rules are satisfactory or not, there is no denying that great strides forward were made when much of the element of danger was eliminated from the game.

To those who surely football is much more satisfactory than it ever was before. Lives and limbs are being saved, which, under the old system of playing the game, were sacrificed for really nothing. If those who have the best interests of football at heart can stand the game by changing the rules, all well and good, but let it be remembered that the public is better satisfied with the safe and sane game than it was with the old one, which called for a long list of fatalities every year.

Though the fear is expressed in many quarters that Harry Davis may fall in his efforts to make a winner out of the Cleveland team, there is no reason why he should, even though he does not show himself to be a Jennings or McGraw. George Stovall made a splendid showing with the Naps simply because he had a mighty strong ball team. Davis has had a lot of experience. He will have even a better ball team than did Stovall, because the youngsters on that team are sure to improve. He should not fail, and yet the uncertainty of the game is such that even though Davis shows ability as a leader his team may not equal the record made by the Naps under Stovall.

A very exciting moment in the Pennsylvania-Cornell football game played at Philadelphia on Thanksgiving day, the final game of the football season. Mercer, fullback of Pennsylvania, is redeeming a misused forward pass. Mercer has no time to toss the pigskin to his end, as a result of Morris' (center) poor pass. Chappman, Cornell's big right tackle, has broken through the Penn line and is trying to nail Mercer, who is defending himself with a straight arm. Mercer is forced to try to skirt Eyler's (left end, Cornell), when the forward toss falls.

CONNIE MACK AGAINST CUTTING OF SCHEDULE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—Not only the fans, but many of the managers as well are opposed to Harry Herrmann's scheme to cut the league schedules down to 112 games and finish the season with each club making a swing around the circuit of the rival league. Connie Mack, when the proposition was put up to him, said:

"I can't say that I am in favor of any such proposition as that made by Mr. Herrmann. I cannot see where it would be practicable. As I understand it, each club would play a series of three games on the grounds of every other club, which would mean 48 games in addition to the 112-game schedule."

"If on the top of all that, the three leading clubs from each league should play a series similar to the world's series the sport would be dragged along until later than under present conditions and I don't believe these games would draw except for the best clubs."

"It would be a great thing for the Athletics next year, as we would be playing against such teams as the Cubs, Giants, Phillies, Pirates and Reds. But I do not think the weaker clubs would gain anything from the novelty. What would a series between the Boston Rustlers and St. Louis Browns amount to from a box office standpoint?"

"Besides, a three-game series would be too short to prove anything, and a weak club would naturally save its star pitchers for the stronger clubs and possibly make a great showing. I don't think Herrmann's idea will ever be worked out."

Mack's statement may be taken as indicating the Philadelphia American league club's view of the matter. Mack holds a quarter interest in the Athletics and always has been consulted by the Shibes in all matters affecting the club in any way.

Incidentally, Mack is counting upon knocking off another American league pennant next season, but intimates that his lineup may be changed just a little bit. The infield, unless one of the "Big Four" meets with a disabling injury or

OVERLAND SCORES

The bowling fans were out in force last evening. In matches on the Overland alleys, the City Hall squad took two out of three games from the Overland team, while the Sanitary Dairy five were whipping the Western Creamery team to the same tune. The Physicians took three straight games from the Bill Rollers, and the Little Buds trimmed the Excelsior Motor Cycle company team in two out of three games. The Little Buds play the Famous Furniture company five this evening. Here are last night's scores:

HE FOUGHT HIS WAY TO TOP OF FIGHT LADDER

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The biggest little man in the ring today always was a fighter. Johnny Coulon is his name, and he will tell you how as a schoolboy he delighted in fist argument. Johnny says he'd never have been a champion if pugilism was conducted on verbal lines, so he resorted to a wee pair of mauls, with which he has punched his way to the place where he is acknowledged as bantam-weight champion of the world.

Unlike most fighters, Coulon started his pugilistic career uncommonly early. He is only 22 years old now, and won't reach the "skidoo" mark until the 25th day of next February. His business career was short and sweet, and not overcrowded with success. But in a way it was a means of his real start in the art of hit and get away, and much of it is laid to a big scratch which Johnny found it necessary to carry in his trade, which was errand boy for a Chicago surgical instrument concern.

Young Coulon had only fairly started in the grand old job when he discovered that his path wasn't completely strewn with roses. He met other small boys of small or large degree whose pugnaciousness was akin to his own. Result, he had to fight and lick them, or they would lick him. So he just naturally fought. Modesty forbade Johnny telling the results of those youthful conflicts.

Just about this time young Coulon found that there was space for something else in the satchel he carried besides surgical instruments. So he saved enough money to buy a set of boxing gloves. These he jammed into the satchel, and when he went to other establishments on errands, and was taunted by other kids he opened the satchel, pulled out the gloves and invited the enemies to don them with him. Johnny wanted to fight it out the right way—and he did.

Johnny Coulon's father, who afterwards became his manager, but who died a few months ago, soon learned of the scraps his son was indulging in, and thus early in the game he saw that the kid was made of the stuff from which champions grow. The next step was a matter of instruction, and a molding of the crude to the perfect followed. Coulon pater saw great prospects ahead for Johnny, and it was not long before the boy was "ready."

It was in 1906 that young Coulon entered his first ring engagement with the eyes of the public directed at him. As an amateur he fought Danny Goodman in a big amateur tournament held in the Coliseum in Chicago. They awaited each other around the inclosure for three rounds to a decision, and at the finish the referee raised Coulon's hand in token of victory. Johnny mingled in the 100 to 105-pound class then. Shortly after this, Mike Butler, who then was director of boxing at the Chicago Athletic club, and who had seen Coulon defeat Goodman, sent him to St. Louis to compete in an amateur journey there, and the Chicago boy came home with the championship of his class tucked under his belt.

Coulon's entry into the professional ranks took him away from home again, and "Pop" Coulon was always there to look after his son's interests. Strangely enough, the boy with whom Johnny was matched in this bout was Danny Goodman, the fight taking place at Davenport, Ia. They met in a "prelim" and the decision was awarded to Coulon.

It was not long after this that Johnny made the acquaintance of George Siler, the noted referee, who has since crossed the great divide, and Coulon gives Siler the credit for making him the great little fighter he really is. He used to go over to Siler's home every Sunday afternoon, and for a couple of hours Siler would instruct him in the finer points of the game. The referee wanted to make a champion of Johnny, and he succeeded.

The bantam was far from a finished fighter when Siler took him in hand. He had many faults, and one of them brought a stiff reprimand from Siler after a fight which Coulon was declared the loser. Johnny was fighting a boy named "Young" Murphy in a Milwaukee ring. Every time Murphy got Coulon on the ropes Johnny threw his head backward to get out of range, instead of throwing his head and body toward his opponent for a clinch. The result was that Coulon took several punches on the jaw before he could make an "end run" and get away.

Siler, who was a ringmaster that night, told Johnny something after the bout was over, and Johnny never forgot again what to do when he was on the ropes. Coulon, when being tutored by Siler, was repeatedly jabbed in the face. He said he couldn't get away from that jab, and so he studied his feet to learn how to land it on his opponents. He has succeeded well, and shoots the punch that Siler liked so well like a bullet out of a pistol.

There aren't a great many boys at his weight that Coulon hasn't beaten. The boys who will weigh in at 116 pounds are "meat" for him, and if Santa Claus would bring him a few pounds of weight we Johnny would be supremely happy.

KEEP OF GOLF COSTS MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—New people, even those intimately acquainted with golf, ever stop to think of the enormity of the financial status of the game. A person with a propensity for golf might do arithmetic all night and merely begin to realize the remarkable amount of money spent in a year by golfers at their favorite hole. It is not a matter of thousands, even hundreds of thousands, but of millions. Add to the cost of upkeep the original amount expended on the construction of club houses, the equipment, the work on courses, etc., the figures are increased in arithmetical progression to such an extent that the total is practically incalculable.

A well known student of the game recently estimated that there were 30 golf clubs in the United States, 10 of some 700 summer and winter resort clubs. Of course, the investment in the club house and the land adjacent to the course varies with the ability of the club members to spend money. Out as Nassau, the club has alone cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, while at Ballston of the house and the grounds of close to $200,000. The Lake Shore Country club in Chicago has spent about $750,000 on its courses, club house and locker room. When it is considered that there are 87 clubs in the immediate vicinity of New York and that there are more than 40 within an hour's ride of Chicago, and that every city has a club of golfers, some idea of the immensity of the original investment may be obtained. This is considering only club houses and courses. These figures are greatly increased on the original purchase of the land and the clubhouse. It is taken into consideration that it is estimated that the average 18-hole course will require a couple of hundred, or 40 or more acres. Then there is the cost of sods and putting the course into shape, to mention nothing of some $500 or $8,000 a year for upkeep.

FIELDING YOST MAY FORSAKE MICHIGAN

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 7.—The thing that is bothering the Michigan students and the alumni right now the most is that the contract with Coach Fielding H. Yost has expired and that for some reason he is not signing up the way he has done in the past. It is realized here that his business is demanding more and more of his attention and that there is a chance of his not being able to return. If this proves so Michigan will be in a sorry boat, as to think of the Wolverines without Fielding H. Yost is to think of a cigar without a light. Yost says he will be able to reach a decision in 30 days, and till he does there will be a heap of uneasiness here.

As to the conference, the feeling here is that Michigan should never return unless the things that the stands for are granted. It is thought here that the conference is an obsolete institution and that its usefulness is past. There would nothing please the student body more than to see Michigan and Minnesota again hooked up, and for that reason the result of the conference is watched with a lot more interest this year than it has been for some time.

Michigan stands ready to play any of the larger western colleges if the ban is lifted, but till it is done she will certainly hold on to her present rivals, and it is doubtful if she would surrender the relations with some of them even to hook up again with some of her ancient rivals.

There were results to the football season of 1912 at Michigan and that is no idle remark when it is considered that there has never been a year when accidents have so held back the men of Yost. They were out in their work this fall, and what was left of the Wolverines went through the season with fair success. True, they were defeated by Cornell. Then the varsity came back and in a condition that would have admitted them to any hospital in the country went in and won on sheer nerve from Penn.

The Nebraska game was a mistake. As has been predicted, Michigan did nothing but lose by the set-five. There was nothing to win and everything to be lost, but the western alumni had to be satisfied and it is hoped that they got their fill.

Made of Forest Roots

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion and torpid liver yield to its curative action.

The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of women's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements is as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper. Don't accept secret nostrums as substitutes for these medicines of known composition.
